I'm thinking it would be a great place to store shallow but bulky things like the extra oven rack, broiler pan, pizza peel - stuff that might be too oversized or oddly shaped to fit in vertical storage.

In terms of dimensions, the oven would fit exactly between the gap of the drain/water supply and the tankless water heater hanging above. Of course, I would have to modify the back ...

To connect the water tubing I'll have to drill holes in cabinets under sink to thread the tube, and the tube will go behind the oven, and through more cabinets to reach the fridge.
