

In this context, a Climate Resilient New City Project is being proposed at the outskirts of Dili to deliver inclusive and gender equitable urban services in an integrated manner.

SEF Secretary Fernandino Vieira da Costa said the tree-planting campaign focuses mainly on bamboo species and other plants that are adapted to local conditions and once planted ...

The generalized way to manage solid waste is transported to public open dump and burning. Related to the waste impacts, health and environment are urgently needed to solve in Dili ...

This commitment drives us to implement sustainable practices that promote the well-being of our immediate surroundings and extend our impact far beyond. Our approach to sustainability is ...

Why do we need an EIA for DDIUP? This DDIUP Project needs Government environmental licensing and approval under Timorese Law.

Dili, the capital of Timor-Leste, is experiencing a severe environmental crisis due to deforestation and land degradation. Rapid urban expansion, unsustainable logging, and slash-and ...

Throughout the three-day event, participants got involved in various activities, including seminars, tree planting and exhibitions, reinforcing Timor-Leste's commitment to actions to combat climate change ...

Eco-friendly travel guide to Dili advises how to be a responsible tourist. Learn how to explore the attractions in a sustainable way and how to respect the local people and culture.

Dili's journey towards sustainability is one marked by challenges, but also by opportunities for innovation and growth. The green initiatives highlighted in this guide represent just a ...

Environmental sustainability dili

Web: <https://ovalventures.co.za>

